Why I Write: Essays By Saadat Hasan Manto

By Aakar Patel (Ed. & Tr.)

Westland Limited, New Delhi, India. Softcover. Book Condition: New. One of the greatest raconteurs of 20th century, Saadat Hasan Manto declares that he was forced to write when his wife routinely demanded that he put bread on the table for the family. He doesn't attribute any genius to his skills as a writer and convinces his readers that the stories flowed even as he minded his daughters or tossed a salad. Equally, Manto treats his tryst with Bollywood with disdain and unmasks the cardboard lives of tinsel town when a horse is painted to double up for a zebra or multiple fans rotate to create a deluge. Two of Manto's favourite and recurring themes women and Partition find special mention as he brings to focus the bizarre morality in the context of feminine beauty and the futile presence of religiosity in the creation of a nation he was to adopt later in life. For the first time ever, this unique collection of nonfiction writing from the subcontinent's greatest writer, translated by well-known author and journalist, Aakar Patel showcases Saadat Hasan Manto's brilliance while dealing with life's most mundane things graveyards, bumming cigarettes, a film crew with motley characters from...

Reviews

This is actually the very best book I actually have read till now. This is for all those who state that there was not a worth studying. It's been written in a remarkably straightforward way which is merely following I finished reading this publication by which in fact altered me, modify the way I believe.

-- Mr. Jeramy Leuschke IV

This type of publication is almost everything and helped me looking forward and much more. I am quite late in start reading this one, but better than never. You won't really feel monotony at whenever you want of your own time (that's what catalogs are for relating to if you ask me).
